Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1-13 and 16-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Spiller (WO 01/08034 from the IDS).

Spiller shows a method for processing documents between trading partners. Database 126 (first database) includes a product-listing portion 148. The product-listing field may include product description, manufacturer and pricing (page 9, line 24 to page 10, line 7). Part of the database 126 (second database) could be considered an e-catalog. The method includes sending outbound documents to a trading partner (page 1, lines 15-16, communicating update information, bi-directional). The method includes a database maintenance validation system. Upon successful validation, database 126 is updated (page 23, line 9, receiving, matching and updating). Bottom of page 22 shows examples of possible changes. Page 11 shows that database 126 may include a history compilation of a transaction including purchase orders and invoices.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3627

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Spiller.

Spiller shows all of the limitations of the claims except for specifying a separate synchronized database.

The examiner takes Official Notice that synchronizing first database content in a second database is an art equivalent to allowing access to the first database. One is more secure and the other is more efficient.

Based on the discussion above, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to modify the Spiller system to incorporate a second synchronized database in order to provide more security to the first database.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Underwood show a system of interest.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Michael Cuff whose telephone number is (703) 308-0610 or, after 4/13/05, (571) 272-6778. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:00 to 5:30.
